Orinda 'City' Meet Will Be Tuesday

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL
Questions about the proposal of the Orinda Association that Orinda be incorporated as a city will be answered at a "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

That was emphasized yesterday by Chairman Paul Pollaczek of the association's incorporation study committee, which recently submitted to the association board a 33-page report recommending prompt steps toward incorporation.

Association directors voted in favor of the recommendations, and petitions for an election on incorporation are "definitely" scheduled for circulation next week, according to Ted Sanford, chairman of the petition drive.

POLLACZEK REPORTED yesterday that the association incorporation committee (successor to the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, and Ramsay Underwood, chairman of the chamber's incorporation study committee, at Stanley Allen's office in the Sproule-Reitz store. Allen was out of town.

"We had a friendly discussion," Pollaczek said.

Increased taxes will be the major point of business at the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce at El Nido restaurant. The meeting will begin at 12:15.

The chamber has invited a representative of the County Tax Assessor's office to explain to the chamber members the reasons for the step-up in tax assessments this year.

According to Larry Blakesley, the chamber is seeking a tax assessment run-down to find a correlation between increased taxes and the automatic extra taxes imposed by the State Board of Equalization last year.

Local merchants will be sprucing up their windows and cutting their prices in preparation for Lafayette Dollar Days August 9, 10 and 11, according to Mrs. W. B. Worswick, chairman of the steering committee of the chamber's promotion division.

Plans for the "days of values" include free movies for youngsters, uniform price tags, window strips, and many special sales.

Formation Monday evening of a Committee for Sewers to press for passage of the proposed $8,900,000 Central Contra Costa Sanitary District bond issue for sewer expansion was announced today by the committee's co-chairman, E. C. (Ted) Counter, mayor of Walnut Creek, and Thomas Shreve of Pleasant Hill.

The committee will assume the responsibilities of public education on the need for sewer expansion. The election will be held August 7.

Initial committee members, in addition to Counter and Shreve, are: Frank Curtis and Joseph R. Longacre, Orinda; Walter Estes, Sleepy Hollow; C. Terence Ring, Bill Hayward, and Dean Spurgeon of Walnut Creek; Ivan

VA Officials to Check W.C. as Hospital Location

Further indication that the Veterans Administration is seeking to relocate its Oakland hospital in a spot other than the originally selected Orinda-Moraga site came this week in an announcement from J. Norman Lodge, VA information director, who said that VA officials will arrive in this area next week to check at least two new possible sites.

Lodge stated that the construction and medical department team of the VA will check property in the Walnut Creek and Pleasanton-Sunol areas.

HE ADDED that the officials will spend from two to four days in this area and will look over any other sites suggested to them by the regional manager in San Francisco or Sam H. Franks, manager of the present hospital in Oakland.

The director reiterated that the VA has not completely abandoned the site adjacent to Miramonte High School, but that "we don't want to go any place we're not wanted."

He indicated that another site would be accepted, "all things being equal."

Following a May 21 protest meeting in which 800 Orinda and Moraga residents flocked to Miramonte High School to ably inform visiting VA officials of their objections to that site, several new areas have requested the hospital.

AMONG THESE, Antioch, Pittsburg, Benicia and Vallejo have been turned down by the VA because of their "inaccessibility to medical specialists" and for other reasons.

Meanwhile Martinez, a city that had been considering submission of a request for the eight-story structure, has launched an all-out drive to locate the hospital there.

At a special meeting of the Martinez Chamber of Commerce on June 28, 25 members gave unanimous backing to the drive which had been started by the chamber directors, and pledged their financial backing to send Claude Greer and Assemblyman Donald Doyle to Washington to try to put the Martinez case across.

BRECK HARRISON, chairman of the drive committee, said that it appears definite that the VA is no longer interested in the original site.

However, the U.S. Federal Court in San Francisco has announced that a suit filed by the government to condemn the lands near Miramonte High has not been withdrawn.

According to Harrison, Walnut Creek and Concord are among the cities actively campaigning for the spacious structure.

central Contra Costa County area — the system must be expanded or continue as a serious health menace.

"The proposed bond issue will provide for the immediate solution of the health problem and provide adequate facilities to prevent its recurrence in the future," they claim.

Supervisors to Hand Down Quarry Decision Tuesday

By SHERMAN PEARL
Fate of the highly controversial Redwood Canyon rock quarry will be made public next Tuesday at 10 a.m. as the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors renders decision on the A. J. McCosker application for permission to operate the quarry.

The supervisors have had the issue under submission since a public hearing on June 19, at which they spent an hour and a half listening to arguments for and against McCosker's Freeway Industrial Properties' permit application.

The quarry would be operated on a property which extends from Pinhurst Road, near the mouth of the Sacramento-Northern Railroad tunnel, northwestward to the crest of a bare ridge which comes down from Round Top and extends well over the ridge into Moraga Valley.

REPERCUSSIONS of the issues aired at that meeting have been loud and numerous.

Most recently, Mrs. Ritchie Ward, secretary of the Orinda Association, attended a Board of Supervisors meeting Tuesday to restate an association motion that the board be requested to reopen the quarry hearing on the grounds that objectors and other residents "were not given adequate notice of the previous hearing."

MRS. WARD also told the supervisors that the County Planning Commission, which was assigned to advise the supervisors on the feasibility of operating a quarry on that site, had not listed restrictions that would be imposed on the quarry operation should the permit be granted.

The board, however, announced that it would meet with the Planning Commission sometime before rendering decision to decide on the restrictions question.

IN A LETTER to the Board of Supervisors on June 18, following the June 15 Planning Commission's visit to the proposed site, Thomas G. Heaton, director of planning, stated that the commission recommends approval of the site.

He added, "There has been insufficient time to recommend a list of restrictions as should be imposed on this permit if granted by the board."

H. L. Cummings, chairman of the board, agreed Tuesday to meet with the Orinda Association Board of Directors next Monday night in Orinda to further discuss the issue.

One of the staunchest opponents of the quarry has been William Drake, Northern California representative of Nature Conservancy.

DRAKE, INTERESTED in retaining the proposed quarry site as a potential park site, sent a letter this week to Cummings urging him to consider the following points before rendering final decision Tuesday:

"1. No proof has been given that this quarry fulfills a present of future need, or that the rock from it would save the taxpayers of the county any money."

"2. The applicant himself stated at the hearing that he expects to do very little business before the freeway is constructed, but will stockpile material presumably for three to five years."

Plan Two New 'Ultimate' Tunnels

Plans for "ultimate" addition of two new 2-lane tunnels parallel to the present Broadway low-level tunnel will be announced in "about another month," District Engineer J. P. Sinclair of the State Division of Highways said yesterday.

"Studies are now under way on plans for a third bore of two lanes to parallel the present tunnel," Sinclair stated, "and it appears that a total of two such bores will be necessary as an ultimate project."

"We can't make any announcement yet. It will be about another month before we can make the announcement."

SINCLAIR pointed out that construction after allocation of funds by the California Highway Commission, would be of "one bore at a time."

"A third 2-lane bore would mean that two of the three bores could be used for westbound traffic in the morning and for eastbound traffic in the late afternoon and early evening, thus alleviating the commuter load," he continued.

"Thus, four lanes would be either eastbound or westbound at three respective peak commute periods, while two lanes would be in the opposite direction."

"During the middle of the day, the middle bore could be closed down. Also, the presence of a third bore would facilitate repair schedules."

"Ultimately, a fourth 2-lane bore could be built, resulting in four westbound lanes of traffic and four eastbound lanes."

SINCLAIR EMPHASIZED that the entire matter is now in the planning stage — and that even after official announcement in about a month the perspective will be one of plans, since the Division of Highways is the planning and engineering section of the state highways apparatus.

Decision and budgeting are by the California Highway Commission, he pointed out. Construction must await such action by the commission.

Several times during the past few years Assistant State Highway Engineer B. W. Booker, in charge of the District IV office of the State Division of Highways in San Francisco, has expressed the opinion that a third 2-lane bore will be a necessity for the near future.

THIS WEEK'S disclosure that a third bore and an ultimate fourth bore are being planned further strengthens the arguments of commuters that with constantly increasing highway and freeway construction the Tunnel more and more constitutes a bottleneck.

With Pleasant Hill Road Interchange nearing completion, Lafayette By-Pass under construction and Orinda Interchange already completed, the Diablo Freeway is rapidly taking shape, commuter spokesmen point out.

In addition, the widening of the South Main Street bridge in Walnut Creek, now under way; the anticipation of early construction of Walnut Creek By-Pass, and various other state and county road projects all serve to funnel increasing traffic to and from the Tunnel.

THE "ULTIMATE" four 2-lane tunnels would be part of an 8-lane freeway from Orinda to MacArthur Boulevard in Oakland state engineers explain.

The route from the west portal to MacArthur Boulevard would be new. The present Broadway route to the tunnel would not be changed, according to present plans.

Freeway Hearing to Be Set

Supervisors to Hand Down Quarry Decision Tuesday

"3. THE PUBLIC deserves to be a party to the adoption of any restrictions; were the permit to be granted."

"4. We all have an interest in our landscape, and whether we personally own or not, we deserve to have some natural contours left to look at."

"5. Since the county has already officially sanctioned a park as the predominant use planned for this area, this should be given adequate technical study."

These contentions pretty well summarize the arguments of objectors.

McCosker has denied the validity of the opposition, telling the supervisors that the protests have been "so exaggerated I haven't paid much attention to them."

Teenagers Cited For Immorality; Girl, 14, Held

A 14 year old Walnut Creek girl is currently in the hands of juvenile authorities for "immorality, delinquency and other reasons," according to Florence Weiberg, county juvenile officer.

The slight, blonde girl was picked up on charges that she committed illegal acts under the influence of alcohol with three teen-age boys last week in a vacant two-story frame house in back of the House of Mufflers in Lafayette.

The three boys, two 14 and one 16, were also picked up and questioned regarding the incident, and are currently in the custody of their parents pending a hearing Tuesday in Juvenile Court, at which Bela Clark, chief juvenile control officer for the county sheriff's office, will make recommendations for disposition.

RECENT ACTS of vandalism were also attributed to the boys, according to Deputy Sheriff Fred Teuscher.

The most recent case, which implicated two of the three boys, occurred last Friday night when the youths started customers at Danny Van Allen's in Lafayette by flinging a live chicken into the restaurant-bar late in the evening.

Reports state that the boys also upset and smashed a valuable bird cage housing a Minah bird in the bar.

Van Allen, according to the sheriff's office, chased the teenagers for several blocks, but could not catch them. Officers were called and began a futile search that evening for the vandals, who were finally picked up Tuesday.

THESE SAME BOYS were supposed to have bought beer that night, according to the account the girl gave juvenile authorities, and induced her to accompany them to the vacant house.

Influenced by the beer, the girl stated that she passed out, and the acts were committed.

Sheriff's authorities have stated that "seven boys were present at the time, but only three actually were guilty of immoral conduct."

Extra Commute Evening Bus Is Scheduled

An additional commute bus from San Francisco to Walnut Creek starting at 6 p.m. Monday through Friday has been provided voluntarily by Pacific Greyhound Lines, according to J. W. Krug, Operating Manager.

Action followed notice to him a few days ago by the Contra Costa Commuters Association that the last commute bus each afternoon was being overloaded.

The association directors expressed their appreciation of the prompt action, according to George R. Cummings, president, and Leroy W. Sowers, chairman of the service committee.

Passengers have been asking questions about the notices posted in all buses and at all depots giving notice of an application for fare increases.

The association has determined that the fares concerned are one-way and round-trip fares throughout the State, to be increased about six percent, but do not affect commute fares which will remain unchanged at least for the present.

The proposed Contra Costa-Alameda County Transit District has become a matter of concern to the directors of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association because their effort to obtain specific information have so far failed, said Cummings.

He instructed committee chairman Ray E. Smith of Concord to make every effort to search out the needed data before the next meeting of the directors on Tuesday at the Acalanes High School.

Family Finds Nature Nice . . . for the Birds

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Behr and son Ted of South Trail have returned from a camping trip to Yosemite and Yellowstone National Parks, where they reeled in some 20-inch trout beauties.

After several days of peaceful vacationing, the Behrs were awakened before dawn one day by bears banging on the ice-chest and looking hungrily at the campers . . . so the Behrs decided this was for the birds (which were also awake before dawn) and pulled up stakes for a few days of civilization at Modesto, where they visited with friends at the country club.

Session May Be Conducted In September

The California Highway Commission's public hearing on routing of the western leg of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway will "probably be held in September," District Engineer J. P. Sinclair of the State Division of Highways said this week.

However, Sinclair stressed that there is no certainty that the hearing will be held in September—but he pointed out that September would probably be the earliest the session would be held.

Assistant State Highway Engineer B. W. Booker, in charge of the District IV office of the State Division of Highways in San Francisco, announced last week that, following the June 21 Division of Highways hearing at Miramonte High School, he had asked the commission to conduct a hearing. He said that such commission hearing would not be held in July; he pointed out that he will be away on vacation this month.

FURTHERMORE, Sinclair stated late Tuesday that the commission's next meeting will be July 25 and 26 in San Francisco, that the commission could not schedule a hearing until it meets; that the Highways Division District IV office has not yet completed the transcript of the June 21 hearing, and that the August schedule of the commission is "pretty heavy."

Past experience indicates that it usually takes a month or two until a hearing by the commission is held," Sinclair said.

FOUR POSSIBLE routes have been mentioned for portions of the western leg of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway. All of them were discussed at length at the June 21 hearing. They are:

1. An approximately straight line from Bollinger Canyon Road near St. Mary's College to the vicinity of Miramonte High School.

(This route had been tentatively recommended by the District IV engineers, prior to the June 21 hearing. It is opposed by Contra Costa County officials and various improvement groups.)

2. A route slightly south of the state-favored route and looping south of Moraga townsite.

3. The Indian Valley route, still further south.

(This route is favored by various groups, including Lincoln Estates Improvement Association.)

4. The Redwood Canyon route, south of the Indian Valley route. (The Redwood Canyon route is favored by Utah Construction Company.)

New Fire House Opening Delayed

Opening of the new Orinda fire house at Via Las Cruces and Honey Hill Road, expected this week, has been postponed until the end of this month or the beginning of August, according to Clarence Betz, secretary of the fire board.

Reasons for the postponement were laid down by Betz to be unexpected delays during final preparations for the opening of the $29,584 structure.

With construction on the building having been begun in March by the Romley Construction Company of Walnut Creek, work was to have been completed right on schedule.

Sewer Bond Passage Backed

Formation Monday evening of a Committee for Sewers to press for passage of the proposed $8,900,000 Central Contra Costa Sanitary District bond issue for sewer expansion was announced today by the committee's co-chairman, E. C. (Ted) Counter, mayor of Walnut Creek, and Thomas Shreve of Pleasant Hill.

The committee will assume the responsibilities of public education on the need for sewer expansion. The election will be held August 7.

Initial committee members, in addition to Counter and Shreve, are: Frank Curtis and Joseph R. Longacre, Orinda; Walter Estes, Sleepy Hollow; C. Terence Ring, Bill Hayward, and Dean Spurgeon of Walnut Creek; Ivan

Gilman, Pleasant Hill; Charles B. Hahn and Edward Rowland, Lafayette; Captain Harold R. Parker, Moraga; Paul Wendt, Diablo; and Robert S. Gould of Danville.

Area campaign committee to support the bond issue are being formed in Moraga, Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Danville.

In announcing the formation of the Committee for sewers, chairman Counter and Shreve declared their belief that the district's 35,000 voters will support the bond proposal if they understand the bond proposal facts:

"1. The present sewer system is inadequate to care for the needs of the rapidly growing central Contra Costa County area — the system must be expanded or continue as a serious health menace.

"The proposed bond issue will provide for the immediate solution of the health problem and provide adequate facilities to prevent its recurrence in the future," they claim.

"2. Due to the necessity of utilizing the full taxing power of the District to presently provide for vitally necessary sewer expansion in addition to operation and maintenance costs, the District is presently levying the full 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation tax.

"Passage of the bond issue will actually result in a decrease in tax rate."

They estimate that this reduction in taxes will average 9.7 cents per tax dollar per year over the next ten year period, with greater future savings to the individual taxpayer probable.

"3. The proposed bond issue, because of an extended repayment period, divides the cost of sewer construction between those living here now and those who will move into the area in years to come," contend Counter and Shreve.

Saturday, committee members and other community leaders will tour the sewer district by chartered bus to gain first-hand knowledge of the area's sewer problem.

Year-round Nevada Weather for Waynes

Business and pleasure took the E. P. Waynes of La Campana to Nevada for business in Reno and to Echo Lake for pleasure at the family cabin.

The temperatures in Reno set a record for the hottest days in 23 years, but snow banks that surround the cabin at Echo Lake served as an outdoor refrigerator as well as nature's air-conditioner.

The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m. and snarled traffic at the west tunnel entrance for about 40 minutes.

Many Events Spark Orinda Summer Recreation Season

The third week of the Orinda Summer Recreation Program got into full swing with a bicycle hike on Monday, and although the directors really began to feel their age, the kids were ready to go again.

The Pet Show on Tuesday proved to be a great success, and many fine animals were voted champions.

Wednesday was a holiday, but the kids were back yesterday to participate in a watermelon feed and later attended another good movie.

For next week, the following activities have been planned: Monday—Hike and pack lunch; Tuesday—Games and tournaments (four square, jacks, etc.); crafts; organized sports and games.

Wednesday — Excursion-b-o-a-t ride: 2 hour trip, bay tour by motor boat, transportation by parents.

Thursday — Field day (mock track events); crafts; movie day (Orinda auditorium).

Friday — Playground activities; crafts; swimming party.

ATTENTION is called to all youngsters who are going into the seventh and eighth grades and the freshman class at Miramonte of their dance tonight at the Pine Grove auditorium.

The dance will start at 8 p.m. and end at 11.

All Orinda kids in those grades are invited to attend," Boyce says. "Donation is 30 cents.

Parents are reminded of their "Special Night" each Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. — folk and square dancing at the Pine Grove auditorium.

GLORETTA's annual recreation pet show Tuesday was a noisy success — what with ducks quacking, dogs barking and tugging at their leashes, birds fluttering excitedly in their cages and pet rats nervously twitching their pink noses.

Winners for the various classifications were:

Largest pet — A Samoyed exhibited by Karen Pedersen.

Smallest pet — A parakeet shown by Kathy Lanzarotti.

Oddest pet — A tie between ducks displayed by Ted Pedersen and Terry Bell.

Most beautiful — White rabbit exhibited by Karen Pedersen.

Best dressed — Kittens shown by Jeanie Anderson.

Oddest named pet — "Ratsy," a rat displayed by Peggy Bell.

Mrs. Schwarck Elected School Board President

Mrs. Catherine Schwarck has been elected president of the Orinda School District Board of Trustees, and Karl Schevill is the new board clerk.

School elections, which were held at a board meeting at the Pine Grove School Monday, shared the evening's spotlight with the seating of the two new board members, Louis B. Ambler and Carl R. Meurk.

Board members also discussed preliminary plans for additions at the Pine Grove and Sleepy Hollow Schools. Submitted to the State Department of School House Planning for approval are plans for six new classrooms at Pine Grove and four classrooms and a multi-purpose room at Sleepy Hollow.

With school expansion a major project for the district, school superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff, architect Jack Buchter and architect recently-completed additions to the Del Rey School last Tuesday and left with a unanimous nod of approval.

"Very nice job" was the phrase Sheaff used to describe the 12 new rooms built by the Hancock Construction Company.

Sheaff has also been instructed to make the necessary plans and preparations for a new cafeteria at Pine Grove. According to Sheaff, the kitchen is already in the school but must be equipped, and a chef must be hired.

The school district will finance the project.

Board members at Monday's meeting also decided to investigate further into the possibility of adding three classrooms and a kindergarten at the Glorietta School to the 12 rooms and kindergarten already there.

A state representative will be here within two weeks to look over the site, Sheaff said.

Don't throw trash from your car. It is now against the law to be a litterbug. Keep roads clean.

Sol Relaxes; Birdie Is Wary

Old man Sol apparently expended much of his energy last week when he raged and blazed locals into begging for mercy.

He benevolently smiled down this week and glowed in very moderate fashion, tempered even further by mild breezes and sometimes overcast skies. But the weatherbird chirps apprehensively as he looks skyward for more blinding flashes of light.

Sol started off the current period with temperatures of 99 two days running, and our fine feathered friend has learned to be a little bit wary.

Poll Resigns CC Committee Post

Chamber of Commerce member Ernest Poll recently has submitted his resignation from the chamber's Incorporation Study Committee to Merle Brown, chamber president.

Poll was a member of a four-man committee, headed by Ramsay Underwood, which was to report its findings on the question of Orinda incorporation in the near future.

Other committee members are Clarence Betz and Stanley Allen. The men were appointed to the committee at a chamber meeting June 19.

In a letter to Brown, Poll expressed his thanks for "your trust in me" and added, "I will be happy to serve you in the future in any other activity of the chamber."

Incorporation? ... 'When?' - Not 'If'

(An Editorial)

The "Town Hall" meeting on Orinda incorporation at the Orinda School next Tuesday night will give Orindans the opportunity to learn more of the essential facts about this complicated problem.

Between now and the public meeting which has been arranged by the Orinda Association, it would be well for all of us to study the 33-page report prepared by the association's incorporation study committee. Copies of this report are available at the Orinda Library.

And during the coming months the report should continue to be studied, and to be the subject of considerable discussion.

The subject of incorporation keeps "popping up" in Orinda — and no wonder, since there are so many pressing problems facing the community.

It is interesting to note that the Orinda interest in the subject coincides with interest in possible incorporation of other communities in Contra Costa County.

In Alamo, a report prepared for the Alamo Improvement Association by Louis J. Kroeger Associates of San Francisco finds that incorporation would be feasible.

Kensington is in the throes of incorporation arguments. The Sun has been on record for some years as favoring incorporation of Orinda. We believe that incorporation is inevitable — that it is not a question of "if" Orinda should incorporate, but "when" Orinda should incorporate.

We believe that incorporation is not only feasible, but that it makes good sense. We said that two years ago, when the Coro Foundation report on incorporation was prepared for the Orinda Association — and we repeat that now, with the new report before us.

In endorsing incorporation, The Sun is restating a basic principle. Exact details — such as budgetary items, city organization and precise ordinances — must be worked out by the people of the community.

Petitions asking that an incorporation election be scheduled will soon be circulated. It is important to understand that signing these petitions does not mean being in favor of incorporation. The required number of signatures will merely assure that the question of incorporation will come to an official vote next January.

In view of all this, it is of the utmost importance that the people of Orinda get all the available facts on incorporation.

We urge you to study the report of the association's incorporation study committee, to attend next Tuesday night's "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium and to participate in the many discussions that will be held in the next few months.

HONORED AT A PARTY following a special board meeting June 28 was M. H. Stanley (right) of the Acalanes High School District Board. The meeting was Stanley's last session as a member of the board, from which he has retired. Shown with him at the surprise party are (left to right) Will Hall, who this week succeeded Stanley on the board; Trustee Alice McBride, Acalanes District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons and Trustee William B. Freeman. Stanley, who served 17 years on the board — since formation of the district — is cutting a cake brought in by district staff members.

Surprise Party Honors M. H. Stanley

M. H. Stanley of Lafayette, member of the Acalanes High School District Board of Trustees since formation of the district 17 years ago, attended his last board meeting as a trustee June 28.

The occasion was a special board meeting at Acalanes High School, at which trustees discussed various architectural details with Delp Johnson, representative of Kump Associates, architectural firm.

Purpose of the discussion was to wind up a number of matters involved in work still to be done for the district by the Kump firm.

STANLEY, who was instrumental in forming the high school district, dropped out of the trustee election race this year, and threw his support to Will Hall, who was elected. Hall's new term began Monday, but he was present at the June 28 session.

About 10 p.m., when the business of the meeting had been completed, a group of district staff members who were long-time associates of Stanley trooped in, bearing a cake.

The cake frosting decoration included an inscription, "Good luck, Howard," and two pictures—one of a "little red schoolhouse" and the other of a Chick Sales structure.

WHEN THE SURPRISED Stanley regained his composure, he was asked to make a few remarks.

He responded by telling of the work in organizing the district and by recounting some of his experiences as a trustee.

Among those present at this surprise party were Trustees William B. Freeman (outgoing board president) and Alice McBride; Will Hall; District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons; Acalanes High School Principal Stanley Walgreen; Lily Lahit, district curriculum coordinator, and Erwin Mattson and Charles Eaton, boys' physical education instructors and athletic coaches.

The cake, cut by Stanley, was served along with other refreshments. Absent from the gathering were Trustees Carl Newbury, who is abroad, and Dr. Ralph C. Hall.

Mrs. McBride is President of Acalanes District

Mrs. Alice McBride was elected president of the Acalanes Union High School District Board of Directors Monday night, in a reorganization meeting.

She had served as clerk during the past year. Will Hall was picked for clerk duties. Other board members are Carl Newbury, Dr. Ralph Hall and William B. Freeman, who has served as president during 1955-56.

District Superintendent is Neil Parsons is also secretary of the Board.

THE BOARD will meet August 1, in a budget hearing. The budget will be adopted then.

On Monday the board discussed a new $240,000 phase of construction at Miramonte High School.

This includes a new cafeteria, multi-use building, improvement of grounds, landscaping interior courts, turfing the baseball field, paving parking areas, and building new bus storage facilities.

Prices are higher than in previous months, and board members agreed with architect, Ernest Kump of Palo Alto that costs cutting should be attempted.

The board approved final details of the administration building which was recently completed.

BIDS WERE called for in construction of an athletic field fence at Las Lomas High School.

Substitute teachers will be paid either $15 or $16 a day, it was decided.

New surfacing of the Acalanes and Las Lomas tracks will be done partly by contract, and partly by school personnel efforts.

Eight or nine used typewriters will be offered for sale by the district. Bids have been called for.

An agreement with the state was concluded, where the state will provide partial reimbursement for the lower prices charged students for milk.

EARLY LICENSE NUMBERS

Early motorists were required to paint their license numbers on their cars. When too many of these motorists started getting "carried away" with their painting, the state started issuing regulation license plates.

Sewerage Line Plans Urged by Area Consultant

The County planning Commission recently recommended adoption of master sewerage plans for Alamo, Collier, and Tassajara drainage basins in a second hearing in Martinez.

At the same time, members urged residents of the southern Contra Costa County to contact the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, to insure future service to their areas.

Payment for installation of large trunklines now by southern residents would avoid payment for parallel lines later on, when the district's expansion program is already formulated, said William O'Connell, sanitation consultant.

The lines must run from San Ramon Valley to Suisun Bay.

College Plans Reading Tests

A.C.E. and English cooperative reading tests required of all full-time students at East Contra Costa Junior College, will be given on July 11, August 1, 15, and 29, Ashley Stevens, new dean of student personnel, announced today.

The first two and the final test will be held in the mornings from 9 a.m. to noon. The August 15 session will be held at night from 7 to 10 p.m.

Most high school seniors have already taken the tests in their senior year. Others who did not, or those who are newly arrived in the county, should contact the college as soon as possible to reserve a place at the session of their choice, Stevens said.

The tests are of particular importance, he added, to prospective students of dental assisting, vocational nursing, and electronics. To be admitted to these occupational programs, applicants must have a personal interview with the class instructor and complete other procedures which take time. In the meantime, Stevens pointed out, these classes are filling rapidly.

Record Road Job Contract Is Let

Contract for the largest road construction job ever undertaken by Contra Costa County—the 5-mile reconstruction of San Pablo Dam Road from San Pablo Dam to Bear Creek Road—was awarded Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors to Frederickson and Watson Construction Company of Oakland and Ransome Company of Emeryville, on the firms' joint bid of $1,577,777.77.

The bid was the lowest of six bids which had been submitted. County Public Works Director Victor W. Sauer said the job is "the largest road construction project ever undertaken by Contra Costa County."

Part of the $1,575,000 county road bond program approved by the voters in 1952, the 5-mile project is a major portion of an 11¼-mile reconstruction project for San Pablo Dam Road all the way from San Pablo to Orinda Interchange.

THE ENTIRE 11¼-mile project is expected to be completed late in 1957, according to County Public Works Director Victor W. Sauer.

Two miles of construction in the city of San Pablo and the El Sobrante area have already been completed Sauer reported to the supervisors Tuesday.

A 2¼-mile section from May Road to San Pablo Dam is "nearing completion," Sauer said. This work is being performed by the contracting firms of John Delphia and Lee Immel.

STILL IN THE design-study stage, Sauer said, is the final 2-mile section, from Bear Creek Road to Orinda Interchange.

Sauer said that the contract for the final portion will be let next year, following completion of design studies.

The Bear Creek Road-to-Orinda interchange section will include the Orinda by-pass, back of Orinda Village and the creek, and to the west of the present Orinda Highway, Sauer's office pointed out.

Sauer said that much of the work and cost of the current project is in preparation for future widening to four lanes.

Letters to The Editor

In past weeks, the news columns of The Sun and Sun editorials have pointed out more information is needed concerning the proposed Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, prior to adoption.

In answer to The Sun's stand on the transit district Robert E. Nisbit, of the East Bay Transit District organization committee wrote the following letter. Dear Editor:

Editorial by you have expressed doubt as to whether or not the proposed Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District is "good for Central Contra Costa County."

While agreeing that no one should buy a "pig in a poke," I enter blindly into a district without considering the consequences, we wish to state that Central Contra Costa was included in the proposed district after much consideration and after receiving many requests from responsible people in your area to be included.

The decision to include your area has been approved by most civic and business leaders of your community and we are confident that the Contra Costa Committee Association meeting July 10 will reaffirm the approval by those most concerned.

AT THE CONTRA Costa Mayors' conference held June 28 in El Cerrito and attended by representatives from all cities in the proposed district, the response to the district was very favorable and no opposition was expressed with the possible exception of Walnut Creek.

However, as Mayor Couter of Walnut Creek pointed out, the door is not closed and this committee is confident that when the facts are properly presented that the district was very favorable and no opposition was expressed with the possible exception of Walnut Creek.

These figures clearly indicate that the small tax burden, if any, that may result from the creation of the district will be borne on a five to two ratio by Alameda County.

IT SHOULD BE emphasized, however, that with this broad tax base of approximately a billion and one-half dollars, that the district could be organized and formulate initial plans with a tax rate of much less than one mill which would not be a significant burden on any tax payer.

Another safeguard is provided the taxpayer in that the district may not go into debt for more than the anticipated revenue without a two-thirds vote of the voters in the district.

You have raised the question as to whether an area may vote to stay out of the proposed district. The law provides that any city or parcel of unincorporated territory that votes against the creation of the district will not be included within the district boundaries.

THE DISTRICT will nevertheless be created in the area that is approved by the registered voters in the areas approving equal two-thirds of the registered voters in the entire proposed district. In light of this provision it is hard to see any objection to permitting the people the opportunity to pass on the question in November.

The proposed Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District is not a "pig in a poke" for Central Contra Costa County, but rather is the only sensible and feasible means now at our disposal to meet the present transit emergency in our two counties.

The warning you should issue is not against letting the people decide this issue in November, but rather what the consequences might be if we continue to put up and with the present inadequate transit facilities with its consequent effect on the traffic, parking, freeway and many other problems that are constantly plaguing our growth and calling for an increasing share of the tax burden.

TAX WISE the creation of the district and the establishment of a decent transportation system is sound and positive thinking on this subject. The time for action is now and the first step is for the cities concerned to give the people in the areas effected an opportunity to express themselves on this vital subject.

Mr. Editor: What alternative do you suggest to this well considered course of action?

Large Throng Attends Art Center Show

Art enthusiasts of the Diablo area, and some from as far as San Francisco, turned out in large numbers last Saturday for Valley Art Center's Guest Day.

Among those enjoying the show which featured paintings by Anthony Sotomayor and garden sculpture by Florence Alston Swift, were Messrs. and Mrs. S. A. Campbell Ross, Leslie Scharrer, Paul Byrnes, B. Pendleton, Robert Eshelman, Charles Rodier and Raymond Tolles.

Drs. and Mesdames Peter Picard, Lyle B. Bishop, Hardin Jones and Bill Harris and Mesdames Oliver Gardner, Harold Powell, Frederick Conner and Pat Moran.

The Lafayette home of Dr. and Mrs. John Ellis, with its variety of outdoor living areas, provided the ideal setting for the display of the two artists work. Both Sotomayor and Mrs. Swift were present to meet Valley Art Center members and their guests.

Guest Day general chairman J. Gordon Answorth was assisted making arrangements for Saturday's event by Messrs. and Mesdames Robert S. Holmes, Michael Czaja, Philip Merrill and Richard David and Mesdames Rawlings Simon, and John Ellis.

Dates have been chosen for two summer events to benefit the Valley Art Center.

On Sunday, July 29, there will be a "swim-brunch" party at the home of Mrs. Harold Powell for members and friends of the organization.

On Sunday, August 19, also at the home of Mrs. Powell there will be a "day Olympics" swimming play-day, with races and other competitive water games for children.

Car Wreck Kills Race Enthusiast

A Richmond man died Sunday at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek, a result of the injuries he received late Saturday when the sports car in which he was a passenger crashed into a power pole on the San Pablo Dam Road in front of the Orinda Filter Plant.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Clarence Rose, 35, an accountant in the Contra Costa County auditor's office was riding in the car driven by Tulane B. Carrington, 38, of San Pablo, when the driver failed to make a turn and his car skidded.

The two were returning to their homes following trial runs at Buchanan Field for the sports car races held there last weekend.

It took Orinda firemen more than an hour to free the injured men.

It wasn't a churchmouse

LAST SUNDAY AT CHURCH, one of Orinda's model mothers bolted upright in her seat, put her hands to her face and registered complete mortification! Kind of a shock to the lady next to her who, imagining a heart attack or a repentant mouse, whispered what-was-the-matter, to which the lady lamented, but not too loudly, "My Cherry Pies, I forgot them in the oven!" . . . A burned offering maybe?

Teachers playing hooky . . . School's Out means that Ruth Sawyer, Del Rey Knigh, has more time for gardening in her Sleepy Hollow home. She and her husband are inveterate travelers and will drive to Canada while their daughter, Carlette, a Sr. at COP, is on a summer student-teaching stint in Europe.

Eighth grade teacher James Comer will meander home to Minnesota, maybe down Mexico Way, and 7th grade's Francis Tighe is working as a secretary on Hill Hill, Oakland . . . Another Pine Grove faculty member, Don Wacks, will do 6 weeks of bivouac and barracks duty at Army Reserve Camp and Gerald Kreger, 8th grade, will summer in San Diego and Mexico.

Lillian Dorrington plans her traditional Tahoe trip w/ her friend Grae Kendall, while Glorietta's Margaret Anderson flies to Michigan for a visit w/ one of her daughters.

Summer means WEDDING BELLS for Assistant Music Director Winifred May who will make her home in Stockton following her marriage to medic Austin Smith . . . Carol Racine of Glorietta faculty will also be married and plans to continue teaching.

SPEAKING OF WEDDING BELLS, they're ringing loud and clear for the parents of Fran Yedidia who are celebrating their Golden Anniversary this month in St. Louis, Mo., and Fran and her sons are currently there for the auspicious occasion . . . Another recent like-affair for the parents of Lila Axelson, who were surrounded by a score of relatives and friends last Sunday at the Castlewood Country Club for their half-century celebration which was attended by Vern Axelson's parents, another "Golden" pair.

Practically just beginners, but the Jack Blocks had an anniversary this week, too, and took each other to see "Anniversary Waltz," the perfect anniversary present!

DID YOU MISS THEM DEPT. . . . Due home from Denver, the Donald Krotz family, Verla and son Doug accompanied Mr. K on a recent Colorado conference . . . Homeward bound on the same train, the Daylite from LA, Melba Bray and her children from a stay at Riverside, and Marge Scarich and her children who had a Disneyland-flying after seeing Clint off to San Luis Obispo for Army Reserve duty.

Boys can boast mother's rare boatride

The Olympic Trials at the L.A. Coliseum attracted Jean and Tom Mann last weekend . . . John and Stella Epperson did Disneyland for the third time w/ their children, but it was a "first" visit for youngest son Peter.

The Kenneth Renwicks were early birds to Balboa this season, while San Diego was the destination of Betty Young and her boys, Stephen and Fred, who also detoured to Disneyland . . . The boys full of envy for Mom who rated a rare ride on a submarine off the coast of Mexico thanks to dad David, w/ the Naval Reserve, who wangled the necessary red tape.

Barbara Gibbs, dgtr. of the Charles Gibbs, has joined Kathy Schevill up in Inverness where the Karl Schevills are lazing at their favorite spot . . . Recent guests of Frank and Tillie Ageno at their TWAIN HARTS home where they are summering w/ Judy and Teddy, were Betty DeFranco and her Betty and Sam.

Betty and Judy ran into school chums Marty DeMaeyer and Lon Anderson there, and Frank and Wilma Olsen, former proprietors of the Orinda Hardware, now ranchers in that region, dropped in for a visit at the Agenos.

The Bill Gilmores will be off to Tahoe this wknd. minus son Pat who, as new Sr. Patrol Leader for Troop 207, is undergoing some vigorous training at the famous Philmont, Mexico, camp.

EUROPEAN VISITORS include, of course, the William Broecks, w/ Jane FINALLY catching her breath under a hair drier someplace in Geneva . . . Lucille and Tom Fahey of Overhill Rd., who are catching on quick to foreign coin exchange on a tour w/ the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

Bob and "Mike" (for Michaela) Roth chucked the children for a Yosemite weekend and the Bob Hendricks sons took theirs along to Tahoe for the fourth. Jeanne and Dick Botjter and sons went of to Washington State for the red-white-and-blue day, and Ted and Virginia Howes w/ Sylvia (Judy's at Caz!) headed for Healdsburg.

Shirley and Owen Jones are home from some scenic cruising around Washington, Canada and Victoria, as are Dorothy Newcombe (Orinda 6th grade teacher) and her husband Dr. Curtis Newcombe of Hidden Valley, who thoroughly enjoyed their first visit in that vicinity.

As Chrmn. of the Ecological Society of America, Dr. Newcombe attended a science conf. at the Univ. of Washington, Dorothy went along and was delighted w/ all they saw, incl. a special side trip to Victoria, B.C., the redwoods, apple country, and the giant rhododendrons which provided perfect subject matter for Dr. Newcombe's camera as an amateur photog.

FULL OF BOSTON TEA and TOLL HOUSE cookies, Mrs. Yvonne Fontaine of El Toyonal, who flew in last week from a 3-wk. visit w/ friends and family in Boston and little old R.I.

The Fred Twinnings of Hacienda Circle flew to the Islands Sunday and were met at the airport there by the Gil Martins w/ whom they made acquaintance recently when the Martins houseguested here w/ the Lance Bardens.

Current houseguest at the Bardens, another Islander Sam Mitchell, and the Bardens' son Lance, by the way, is just back from D.C.

ON THE MOVE . . . Sue and Harold Walters were feted widely before their recent move to Coronado where Hal is stationed w/ the Navy . . . Former Orindans Bob and Helen Pelz pushed through the traffic from the Peninsula for the party last Sat. nite at Carroll Ranch, given by their former neighbors and friends of Meadow View in honor of Marian and Jack Grant who are setting up house-keeping elsewhere.

A similar affair was staged by this same "Love Thy Neighbor" group when the Pelzes turned Peninsulites.

The Charles Blues soon to move into their new Sleepy Hollow home as will the John Boyens who have lived in Orinda 15 years and wouldn't think of moving anyplace else! The Blues have built on Tappan Lane, the Boyens on Van Tassel.

Members of the ORINDA MILLS CLUB gathered for lunch at the Country Club June 27 to honor new officers: President Phyllis Edwards, Vice-pres. Connie Golden and Treasurer Jean Lathrop. (There is no secretary as no notes are taken, which we think is a splendidly novel note!)

Among those felicitating the new crew, Mills alumni from Orinda included Ann Copenhagen, Betsy Kilburn, Ann Sanford, Ellie Dodge, Arline Chapman, Jean Henderson . . .

Fire Blazes Over 75-acre Area on Waverly Ranch

Firemen from three departments and volunteers fought for four hours Sunday to control a wind-whipped blaze that burned 75 acres of grazing land south of Lafayette over the Waverly Ranch.

Approximately 1000 persons gathered to watch 30 firemen from the Lafayette, Moraga and East Bay Municipal Utilities District fire departments finally bring the blaze under control, according to Shirley Peaks, Lafayette fire chief.

He said the fire apparently started at Michealson Lane near the Waverly Ranch and extended over the Bethelo Ranch and four acres of the Dollar Ranch.

Even with four jeeps, two pickup trucks and three engines from the three fire departments joining forces to quench the flames, the Walnut Creek fire department had a truck and personnel on a stand-by basis in case they were needed.

Among the volunteer fighters was Joseph Lobo, 682 Glenside Drive, Lafayette, who used a bulldozer to plow a fire line across the top of a nearby ridge.

The following day, Chief Peaks received a letter of commendation from Karl T. Goepfert, past commissioner of the Lafayette Fire District, on the work he and the other firemen did to extinguish the fire.

"As you know," the letter began, "I have been interested in the fire service for the past 35 years, the majority of the time on hill fires."

Goepfert continued, "Having served as commissioner of the Lafayette Fire District for 11 years, I want to tell you how proud I was in watching the Lafayette Fire Department fight the grass fire."

He went on to say that the fire was handled in the "most efficient, orderly manner I have ever seen a fire of the magnitude fought."

"All the odds were against you," the letter stated, "inaccessible terrain, a 40 to 45 mile an hour wind, and the fire had a good start before the apparatus arrived."

"Again, Chief, to the Lafayette Fire Department a pat on the back for a job well done," Goepfert concluded.

Dinner Honors Rev. Lewis' 25th Year of Ministry

More than 70 friends and parishioners of the Rev. Chester R. Lewis gathered last Sunday at the Lafayette Community Methodist Church to honor the church's pastor on the 25th anniversary of his entrance into the ministry.

The surprise took place immediately following the 11 a.m. services at the church. Taking the minister unaware, members of the congregation brought their own food baskets and turned the festivities into an honorary dinner.

Contributions from the parishioners gave Rev. Lewis a partial set of Bible Reference Books, which was presented to him at the dinner.

The pastor is currently in Los Angeles visiting with his daughter, but will return shortly.

Winds Relocate Rheem Dancers

Gusts of wind blew up last Friday night and pushed the Rheem Center Folk and Square Dance carnival clear over to the Carroll Ranch.

Originally scheduled to take place outdoors in the middle of park Street in Rheem Center, the affair, sponsored by the Rheem Center Merchants' Association, was prepared as planned but those chilly winds forced a change.

After about an hour of waiting for a nice summer night to come into being, it was decided to move dancers, callers and spectators to a large room at the ranch, where festivities were resumed.

Admission was free and those that waited out the cold danced to the recorded music and the instructions of callers Bob Dewan and Jack Evans.

Moraga Dateline

By EVA THUNE, DR 6-5593

Not much doing these days in our area, probably due to first the extreme hot weather, then the extreme cold weather.

On Wednesday night, June 27, the first meeting for the purpose of forming a club for Junior horsemanship was held at the Moraga School. Attending were 16 horseminded youngsters and a small group of adults hoping to be able to reach a conclusion as to ways and means of getting an immediate start.

Object of the club will be to teach the young people how to handle horses and stock properly. Another meeting was held last night at the school.

EXTENDED VACATION Returning home Sunday, after a week's vacation at Lake Tahoe, were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lance and son, Chuck.

The prime object was to attend the California Landscape Association convention, which was held through three days at Glob-in's Altahoe Resort, Lake Tahoe. However, while there, decided to stay longer at the Bland's Resort on the lake.

Tuesday night was the big night for the party goers of the Rheem Valley Association. Plans were for a party at Carroll's Ranch, with swimming (weather permitting), dancing and refreshments.

A group of children from Rheem Boulevard are attending summer school and playground school. Those going to Burton Playground School in the week-day mornings are, Charlie and David Tarpley, Teresa Friedrich, Jane and Jackie Davis, Garry and Laurie Cole.

Attending Lafayette Summer School are, Kitty Cole and Carlotta Davis.

We are all glad to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis' son, Carlton, is home and feeling much better. Carlton spent 3 1/2 days in Kaiser Hospital, Walnut Creek, suffering from sunstroke. However, he hopes to back in school next week.

GOODIES HELP BIRTHDAY Rebecca Thune spent her sixth birthday, June 26, quietly. It was too hot to do much else. Celebration was mainly limited to the family, but gift opening and cake and ice cream was greatly enjoyed.

Highlight of the day was a call to her grandparents Sargeant in Yakima, Washington.

Receiving his discharge from the U.S. Navy after serving four years, Roger Freitas, son of Joseph Freitas of Larch Road, arrived home last week. A large part of his hitch was spent in the Philippine Islands.

At present, Roger is taking a week off, then he plans to go into the contracting business with his brother, Bob Freitas, who lives in Concord.

In the WELCOME NEIGHBOR corner, we have Dr. and Mrs. Howard Preece and their two little daughters, Mary 3 1/2, and Holly 2 1/2 years.

Dr. Preece, who is a psychiatrist, commutes daily to San Francisco, where he is in private practice, while Donna and girls, who have become well acquainted and are active in community life, are getting settled in their new home on Rheem Boulevard.

It is always a real pleasure to get acquainted with new people. Let me hear more.

Couples Visit Resort

Three Orinda families have selected the Del Monte Lodge in Pebble Beach as their home while spending a few days recently at the resort.

The vacationers included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dieterich, 817 Esplanade, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Copenhagen, 9 Daryl Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hughes, 98 Diablo View.

Don't throw trash from your car. It is now against the law to be a litterbug. Keep roads clean.

Grand Jury Report In: Now for Action

The 1955-56 Grand Jury has officially turned in its report and has been disbanded.

The 1956-57 Grand Jury has been installed with Philip Bancroft Jr. of Walnut Creek as foreman.

But what about the 1955-56 Grand Jury. It has completed its work, it is true, with a report covering all major functions of the county government.

A summary of the recommendations of each committee will be found in the news columns of this paper. But what will become of these recommendations.

Will it be the "same old story?" For many, many years, the reports of Grand Jurys have been practically ignored, and in many cases, public officials have actually admitted that they have not read them.

It does not seem right that a Grand Jury should put in 12 months of hard work, only to have that work wasted when no action is taken on the recommendations.

It is also a terrific waste of time, because the next Grand Jury must plow through the same mass of material, with the same recommendations frequently appearing in Grand Jury reports year after year.

It must be disappointing to the honest Grand Jury member, who tries hard to serve his area when all his recommendations are ignored.

Incidentally, if this editorial sounds familiar to you, it probably is because The Sun has run almost this same editorial for the past eight years.

We urge the present Grand Jury to examine closely the recommendations of the retiring Grand Jury, and to see that county offices take action on them.

We urge any resident, who has a complaint, to get in touch with the Grand Jury foreman or the secretary and see that the Grand Jury is aware of the situation. After all, the Grand Jury is formed of citizens of those communities, but it is often difficult for a few men to discover all the complaints and "sorry situations" that exist, unless they have help.

So perhaps if the people and the new Grand Jury work together, with the cooperation of public officials, it will not be necessary to write this editorial again next year.

But we shall see.

What They Say... How to Get Heat Relief

The other day, in the midst of the recent heat wave, a Sun reporter came into the office, perspiring profusely, and informed us that the one and only topic of conversation around his house had been the weather.

Believing our colleague to be a normal, typical local resident, we suddenly realized that taxes, politics, and even sports were taking a back seat as conversation topics to the question even the Neanderthals must have pondered over, "How are you gonna beat the heat?"

Well, the ancients may have gumbled over the situation in guttural grunts, but folks hereabouts had very definite ideas on the best means of coping with the heat.

MANY PEOPLE felt that the solution was in a kind of amphibian life, and are taking to the water like frogs.

Mrs. Harold W. Hawes, 27 La Campana, Orinda, is typical of this group of submariners. Although the Hawes don't have their own pool, one of their favorite summertime pastimes is a trek to the Orinda Park Pool, where they feel the cool water is a real balm.

ANOTHER AQUA FAN is Judy Huxley, 3441 Echo Springs Road, Lafayette, a coed who will start college in the fall.

"I get away from the heat by swimming in the Castle Rock and Turtle Rock pools," she told us. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Huxley.

Summer weather is the cause of such apathy that some people would rather relax and enjoy it rather than try to escape it.

B. B. Seim, 95 El Toyonal, Orinda, claims that he likes to just "take it easy in my hammock." He added that the current weather "suits me fine."

COMBINING SWIMMING with picnics and other outings are the Earl W. Threlfalls, according to Mrs. Threlfall.

"We generally go to Pine Crest," she stated, "when things get too hot here."

ADD-WHAT THEY SAY—stdg. "The traditional cool shower would be a good answer to that, but I haven't tried it lately, so I'm not sure," admitted Mrs. Boyd Hall of 2455 Marcia Drive, Pleasant Hill.

MARINE MAJOR Thomas Weghorst of 25 Kathryn Drive, Pleasant Hill, confided that he isn't as interested in beating the heat as getting rid of a slight cold he caught while swimming.

"But I'll venture that pulling the blinds, and completely relaxing is my best cure for the heat," he said. Maj. Weghorst is commanding officer of the Marine Barracks, Oakland Naval Supply Center.

"My family doesn't seem to mind the heat much," said C.W. Broyles of 1730 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek.

"But on the hottest days they sometimes turn on an air conditioner built into the house," he added. Broyles works at Columbia Steel.

"SWIMMING in my next door neighbors' pool!" exclaimed Clarence Dedrick of 31 Carlos Court, Walnut Creek, in reply.

His next door neighbor is Bill Coffey.

Dedrick said, however, that he and his clan likes it when it is warm, when they have a day off. He works for a dairy in Oakland.

CCCSD to Get Sewer Bids Soon

Directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District recently voted to call for bids July 19 on construction of sewers in the Minors area.

The action was taken after the board approved the boundaries of District 34, which is the Minors area.

The board of directors also voted $10,000 for an electric motor and other equipment for the lower Orinda pumping station.

The 20-day filing period for candidates seeking election to the board will start July 19.

QUARRY DISPUTED

Dear Editor:

I do not know where the writer of last week's letter to the editor got the impression that the people who live in the vicinity of the proposed McCosker quarry do not object to the quarry.

A great number of the residents nearby emphatically do object to it.

THE BOARD of Supervisors has on record a letter from the Lost Valley Association stating the residents' objections to the quarry.

The Shepherd Canyon Freeway will not even begin for an estimated 5 years and I do not see the use of beginning quarry operations now if the material is to be used, as Mr. McCosker says, for that freeway.

If there is a question about how binding the proposed restrictions on the quarry would be, perhaps it might be well to ask the plagued and distressed citizens of Clayton Valley how well the restrictions have worked that were placed on the quarry that was allowed to operate near a residential area there.

Not even pleas and petitions to the Board of Supervisors to help enforce their own restrictions have been to any avail, and almost all of those restrictions have been violated.

What also of the residents of Redwood Canyon, whose children must walk to school on that narrow road?

Simply because the trucks may not pass one's own door does not eradicate concern for our neighbors in Redwood Canyon's problems.

While it is true that initial quarry operations will not be within Orinda's view there is no time limit placed on the quarry permit, and who can say how scarred and unsightly this hill will be when operations cease? The hill in question can be plainly seen from almost all of Orinda.

It is not our purpose to hamper anyone's business operations. It has been pointed out that this rock is not as badly needed as we would be led to believe.

Once this permit is granted it will be too late. If you think any restrictions will help, ask Clayton Valley.

MRS. WILBUR KOEHLER

MORE QUARRY QUANDARY

Dear Editor:

The Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa County have before them and are still considering an application for a permit from Freeway Industrial Properties, Inc., to establish a rock quarry in the Redwood Canyon area adjacent to Orinda.

Such an industry is very detrimental to beauty, property values, and might cause subterranean damage both to the underground water and earth movement, due to blasting and use of heavy equipment.

At the hearing held in Martinez June 19 by the Board of Supervisors, competent technical authorities called attention to the following:

1. Possible water pollution and damage to the dams by silting.
2. Probable damage to property miles distant from the quarry site due to slipping in slide areas.
3. Flood control damage.
4. Destroying an extremely rare botanical and park area for the entire East Bay.

Could it be that a quarry permit might be a means of setting an increased value on the land which the state may be considering as an addition to the "green belt" park area, extending from San Leandro to San Pablo?

MRS. V. J. QUINLAN

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

(This week's column is written by Dick Osborn, Walnut Creek Sun news editor.)

Ah yes, It's a Dog's Life indeed

Most of us are familiar with such canine statements as "It's a dog's life," and "Things sure are going to the dogs." However, it sometimes happens that the phrases we use frequently, and don't examine, often have a great deal of truth in them.

Are things actually going to the dogs? This is a political year, and almost everybody is sure that if the "other" party wins, the dogs will be gnawing on the haunch-bone of The United States within months.

If you live in Walnut Creek, especially the Walnut Heights area, or in Alamo, you would have heard recent controversy about the formation of the new water district with the firm opinion by some that the district will be ruinous. However, it was formed with a substantial majority vote.—about five to one.)

If you live in Lafayette, you might have gotten pretty interested in the election of officers for the Lafayette Improvement Association, and if you live in Orinda there are all kinds of controversial issues to warm the friendly fires of conversation.

How about those Dogs we Mentioned?

But this all leads to one point. No matter what the issue, there are always those who are opposed, and no matter how unfavorably an issue is presented, there are always those in favor.

And SOMEBODY is going to end up feeling that the whole country is "going to the dogs" because the issue didn't come out the "way it should have."

It should be a good thing for us to remember (especially when we remember that we celebrated Independence Day this week) that there is always another side to the question, and that we can't win all the arguments, because sometimes that other side is just going to be stronger.

This means that whenever an issue is "settled" there is a loser, and for him, everything has gone to the dogs! But too frequently, the loser decides to "get even" ... just like children will do sometimes, and on the governmental level this can lead to a continuing mess that makes Mr. Average Citizen throw up his hands and exclaim, "I won't have anything more to do with that bunch!"

But then, maybe we've been just a little hard on our four-footed friends. Lots of us have dogs, and when you get right down to it, they are pretty fine un-complaining friends.

It isn't right for us to use the phrases that have appeared in this column without offering our apologies to the dog-readers of The Sun.

Now Here's the Other Side of the Coin

But they get their kicks, too. Take the case of dogs and Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Recently an article appeared in a San Francisco paper to the effect that the SF office of PG&E maintains a central dog file, the purpose being to warn meter-readers of the disposition of the canine inhabitants of the city.

Just out of curiosity a call was placed to Hoben Thomas, office manager for PG&E in Walnut Creek, and he assured us that no "central dog file" is on record in our area.

He did comment, however, that "notations" are made on the master meter-book regarding the disposition of specific dogs.

It's Not Only the Attorney

So you might ask your dog (if you're on speaking terms with him) whether or not he's on the PG&E version of the Attorney General's subversive list.

But even the PG&E doesn't seem to blame the dogs. As Thomas said, "Basically, if a man is afraid of dogs, that's it ... he's had it."

And Just a Word about Vacations

The County Health Department is really up to date when it comes to seasonal news, and they filled their bulletin "Health Headlines" this month with timely warnings to vacationers.

You seldom meet an individual who isn't convinced that HE isn't careful, or that he doesn't know what the score is, but still, accidents continue to happen with monotonous regularity.

Just a word before your vacation ... Watch your camping and swimming habits. Be careful of wild animals and boats. Watch out for those guns and be sure and have first aid measures handy wherever you are.

After all, it might be kind of fun to stick around and see what happens in the general elections in November.

Even if it is a dog's life. ...

Letters to The Editor

BOY WHIZ

Dear Editor:

When the ladies of this area are driving along Mt. Diablo Boulevard in that old jalopy that usually gets them to the store and back and it begins to die on its wheels, if they can coax it on into Lafayette and park along the curb in town a little boy will come along on his bicycle.

After peering under the hood, he will offer to fix it — he can do it.

He juggles things around in there and then comes up with complete instructions on how to operate a car that is now running on a generator instead of a battery.

If a boy of 11 or 12 can figure out the maze of a car motor and all its accessories to a point where he can make it go when it has definitely quit, then these old heaps have a few miles left in them yet, and the automobile business of tomorrow has a first-rate machinist coming up.

Thank you, Little Boy, "whoever you are."

Here Are Highlights of Your '56-'57 Grand Jury Report

Audit & Finance

(Harry Johnson, chairman; John M. Hogan, Edith S. Penn, Elvo R. Travallini.)

"The initial function of the committee was the selection of the Grand Jury Auditor to perform the annual audit of the County's books and records for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955.

"In making the selection, four Certified Public Accounting firms participated in the interviews, resulting in the nomination of Glen Whalen and Associates, based primarily on the premises that continuity of auditors for five out of the preceding seven years reached a saturation point of healthiness in new ideas; secondly, within the County existed excellent CPA coverage and willingness to meet the contractual price level of $6,500.

"Recognition was made of the fact that the County was then operating with a fewer number of employees than most counties of comparable size, which indicated a better than average efficiency in deployment of its manpower.

"Also, it was the Grand Jury Auditor's opinion that the Auditor-Controller has an efficient staff and is handling large volumes of complex accounting transactions in an excellent manner. However, some recommendations were made to the Board and other attending officials, but for one reason or another no action had been taken to implement these recommendations.

"Conversely, many of the recommendations are currently in the process of being put into effect.

"Our next assignment was the clarification of the legality of hiring the Grand Jury Auditor on a 'current basis'. This was accomplished with the approval of the presiding Judge after consultation with the District Attorney's staff.

"This recommendation was originally made by the 1952-1953 Grand Jury, and it said in part: 'It is therefore suggested that the preceding Grand Jury be empowered to select the auditing firm for the next fiscal year, and in that way the auditing firm can go to work any time after June 30. This would enable the Grand Jury to properly follow through and see that their recommendations are fully understood and put into effect.'

"Some of the advantages to be gained can be enumerated as follows:

"1. The incoming Grand Jury would benefit from having had an auditor already working for many months at the time it came into existence. Appointing the auditor on this basis will provide some continuity and act as a liaison between the outgoing and the incoming Grand Jury.

"2. The Grand Jury would benefit from being able to confer with the auditor throughout its twelve months' existence. (In some cases there may be two different auditors during this period to follow through on his recommendations that were approved by the Grand Jury.)

"3. The audit will comprise two phases, namely, financial (Section A) and functional (Section B). The functional report should be completed August 15th and should embrace the recommendations which will ultimately be the origination of subsequent activity of the Jury. The financial statements cannot be completed at such an early date, but are only incidental to the ensuing Jury action.

"4. The auditor is in a position to consult with the different department heads and staffs about current problems and consequently his services are of more value. If anything develops during the current year that requires 'investigation', it is preferable to have it brought out when it occurs rather than possibly 12 months later.

"5. The psychological effect on County (and District) personnel of knowing that the auditor can come in at any time during the year to count and reconcile the cash cannot be overestimated.

"Therefore, after careful and extensive consideration, this committee proposed to the Grand Jury the incumbent auditing firm be contracted on a 'current basis', which was accomplished with unanimous approval."

Hospitals, Clinics & Sanitation

(John M. Hogan, chairman; Lucretia W. Edwards, Frank Noia, Max Pearl, Tom Herbert.)

"There are in existence a minimum of seventy-seven health care hospital jurisdictions that are subject to the direct inquiry of this committee. We cannot overemphasize the tremendous scope of this field, coupled with the fact that a year is far too small a span of time in which to give proper attention to each authority.

"This maze of dependent and independent authorities present an awesome mass of data to be reviewed, both as a source of information and comment. The following report and recommendations are the result of a careful study of this field.

"Our committee at this time wishes to express their appreciation for the cooperation extended their efforts. At no time did we receive a direct refusal for information requested, and in the majority of cases the answers were satisfactorily detailed.

"Of all our county services, the health group is the only one that has three heads, Medical Officer, Health Officer and Coroner. Our recent growth as a county should serve as a warning to put this matter in order before it becomes too awkward to handle.

"At this time there are not enough sanitarians in county service. On an average, these establishments are inspected but once a year. This is not adequate to maintain a high standard of public health safety.

"Lack of adequate county laws does not permit a tight program for the prevention of a rabies epidemic. This might be achieved by proper legal methods of dog vaccination and control.

"Ambulance service to the county and district hospitals has been declared economically satisfactory by the county Medical Officer and various Administrators.

"However, there is one disturbing element to be considered:

"There are no standards (city, county or state) for the operation of this service. Doctors and nurses are required by law to pass a prescribed examination before they are permitted to engage in their profession. Here, we have a group who may or may not know the proper method of handling a given case, yet the lives of our ill and injured citizens are in their hands.

"This we feel is a grave situation that should be corrected by legislative action. To accomplish the foregoing letters have been sent to the California State Legislature, requesting action.

"Sanitary Districts as a group are under tremendous pressure to provide necessary facilities for increasing real estate developments. Until construction levels off, it will be an uphill fight to properly protect our public health.

There have been complaints of sewerage overflow from the Orinda Pumping Station of the Central Sanitary District. Independent analysis of bacteriological samplings of this overflow do not indicate a potential danger to the inhabitants of our county.

"It is the suggestion of this committee that the San Pablo Sanitary District should be carefully and thoroughly inspected by the 1956-1957 Hospitals, Clinics and Sanitation Committee."

Recommendations:

1. Adequate facilities for monies and valuables at all health and hospital installations, be provided and maintained.

2. The office of County Medical Director be placed under Civil Service.

3. The enactment of proper county legislation for the control of rabies, through dog licensing and vaccination.

4. Full utilization of district hospital facilities for county emergency hospital service.

5. Integration of all county medical and health services into a Unified County Medical Service, under one head.

6. Through due legislation, the office of Coroner and deputies be abolished and the duties pertaining thereto be delegated to the Unified County Medical Service.

7. Compilation, publication and distribution of a "Hospital Operating Procedure Manual" for the County Hospital and those districts not so equipped. For maximum effect, this should be completed within the year.

8. The business office of the County Hospital, with the head of the Medical Social Service as consultant, act as the liaison agent in all legal matters concerning hospital accounts receivable.

9. Through proper state legislation, adequate professional standards for ambulance personnel be established as a basis for the issuance of an Ambulance Service Operators Certificate.

10. Thorough consideration be given, by the Board of Supervisors, to the pressing need for additional sanitarians.

Social Welfare

(James W. Dieterich, chairman; Hazel M. Andichou, Harry E. Grey, Harry Johnson, Charles B. Mahon.)

"Of the several welfare programs administered in the county, all but the Aid to Needy Children seem to be under reasonable control. The General Assistance program is carefully controlled and the policies of the Board of Supervisors are carefully followed.

"The greatest welfare expense is in the Aid to Needy Children program.

"The Committee is concerned about the number of cases in which children are not receiving the care and benefit of the funds expended in their behalf. Although it is possible in mismanagement cases to withdraw direct payments and substitute aid-in-kind assistance, a few cases are handled in this manner.

"It would seem that the Welfare Department could work more closely with probation, law enforcement agencies, and the Courts in protecting children by removing them from homes in which immorality and lack of care are factors creating an unhealthy and undesirable environment. It is apparent that much of the difficulty experienced in the administration of the Aid to Needy Children program stems from the interpretation of law by the State Welfare Board.

"The local administrator is responsible for complying with federal, state and local statutes, but is also faced with the overwhelming flood of rules and regulations from the State Welfare Board which have the force of law, and which represent the arbitrary interpretations of the governing statutes by the State Board.

"Lack of funds, we believe, has resulted in many children, for whom the program is designed, being deprived of necessities while irresponsible parents are being supported by public funds.

"The tragic disregard for the welfare of children under the program is demonstrated by the growing number of cases where aid is being given to unwed mothers who, themselves, have been recipients of ANC funds.

"The unhealthy environment and moral standards, or lack of standards, in which many children are being raised represents a serious problem in society.

"Based on a meeting with State legislators representing Contra Costa County, a letter has been directed to them requesting formation of a legislative committee to review the practices and policies of the State Department of Welfare. It is the intent of this letter to urge a thorough, impartial inquiry by a Committee balanced as to point of view of its members.

"The request for legislative action is based, on our conviction that the intent of welfare legislation has often been subverted by arbitrary interpretations by the State department charged with administrative responsibility.

"On the basis of admittedly meager information, it is felt that increased emphasis in the rehabilitation of aid recipients is a desirable aim of the Social Welfare Department. It is apparent that citizen groups (civic, religious and social) must cooperate in assisting those who have suffered physical or economic misfortune to return to a more secure, self-supporting position in the community."

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That efforts be continued to alleviate the deplorable conditions under which the members of the County Superintendent's staff are required to work. The present quarters are overcrowded, inadequate, inefficient, and hazardous.

2. That the County Board of Education and County Board of Supervisors jointly create a Citizens' School Committee of Contra Costa County, possibly by each body appointing five members and the committee itself appointing 10 more members.

3. That they should be citizens who would provide a cross-section of our county's social and economic life. It is further suggested that the County Superintendent designate a member of his staff to act as executive secretary. This committee would be patterned after the 1950-53 Contra Costa County Cooperative Study, with similar functions.

4. That consideration be given to the addition of one or two members to the County Superintendent's staff to expand business services to the school district. It is felt that coordinated business practices would result in a saving to the taxpayer.

5. That the County Purchasing Agent attempt to extend the present efficient procurement practices used for many items to all items of the Standard Supply List.

6. That volume purchasing of items not on the Standard Supply List be considered as a money saving procedure. This is already being done in the procurement of audio-visual equipment.

7. That prices paid by all agencies purchasing school supplies be compared in order to determine price trends and variances. This would give the purchasers greater bargaining power and could result in lower prices.

8. That the Legislature of the State of California enact legislation requiring subdividers and/or developers to provide adequate school sites (adequacy to be determined by the State Department of Education) and to sewer the area at their expense.

9. That the audit firm to perform the annual complete audit be recommended by the president of the governing board and not by the superintendent.

10. That the "hearsay" reports not be given serious discussion in open board meetings. We deplore tactics that utilize a distorted presentation of serious issues. This is not a criticism of the majority of school administrators and governing boards, which we believe are dedicated to the highest standards of service.

11. The committee finds occasion to mention the issue because of a discussion before a board, which discussion, upon investigation by the chairman, proved to be without foundation.

12. That the Education Code be amended to (1) make mandatory, instead of discretionary, the sending of sample ballots and notices of polling place to notify voters of the election of school trustees; (2) consolidate school elections with other elections.

13. We recommend that school elections be removed from the jurisdiction of the school districts and local superintendents and be given to the county to be incorporated with county elections, resulting in greater economy and efficiency and also giving the people as a whole much more voice in the election instead of the usual 5 per cent vote.

14. That all school districts qualifying for State building loans adopt the practice now followed by some of our districts in voting bonds ahead of bonding capacity and selling them at intervals as the district gains in assessed valuation.

15. By so doing the district avoids yearly elections, otherwise necessary to keep up bonding capacity as required to qualify for State aid. This reduction in the number of elections and in the need for the services of a bonding company saves public funds.

16. There are the usual problems inherent in the County situation of large concentrations of population in the incorporated areas. The political realities are such that it appears this situation will continue to be troublesome until through incorporation or annexation procedures.

17. Disproportionate service by a county agency to unincorporated areas at the expense of the incorporated communities contributes to the frictions that now exist.

Also taking part in the ceremony were Sharon Eggerts of Walnut Creek, who was the soloist; Clarice Brennan of Walnut Creek and Peggy Curphey of Stockton, who served as candle-bearers. Officiating at the bride's father gave her in marriage was the Rev. Chauncey Blossom. Yellow and white embroidered organza dresses were chosen for the attendants, who carried bouquets of yellow carnations and bouvardia. Phyllis' gown, styled on the same lines, was of white embroidered organza, made with a square neckline, dropped waistline and full, floor-length skirt. With it she wore a fingertip veil secured by a crown of orange blossoms and carried an arrangement of white orchids, bouvardia and stephanotis. Her mother, Mrs. J. C. Pyle, was in a blond silk shantung sheath with matching accessories and a cymbidium corsage, while the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Julius Berndt of Lodi, wore pink taffeta with matching accessories and also, had a corsage of cymbidiums.

Masculine members of the wedding party included Vernon Triebwasser of Oakland, best man; George Moscone and Tom McCormick of San Francisco, Keever Jankavich of Modesto and Gil Moser of Stockton, ushers. After their reception at the Orinda Country Club, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to Santa Barbara. The Marine officer and his bride expect to be at home in San Diego after July 15.

Both Phyllis and her husband are graduates of the College of the Pacific, where his fraternity was Rho Lambda Phi. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Berndt of Lodi.

Reappraisal of Varying Fire District Salaries Requested

A reappraisal of the salary structure which varies from one fire district to another in Contra Costa County, was called for in a recent report to the Board of Supervisors by the County Fire Commissioners Association.

The report stated that "There is a vital need for a survey in the various fire districts in order to arrive at a fair and realistic salary structure."

The report read as follows: "THE FOLLOWING is a report of the activities of the Contra Costa Fire Commissioners Association covering its activities in connection with a survey of Fire Protection problems among the various districts which are under the supervision of the Board."

"Immediately upon receiving the Board's directive that a study be made of the fire service in Contra Costa County, and that it was the desire of the Board of Supervisors that such a study be made by the Fire Commissioners Association, a committee was formed consisting of Z. J. Montgomery, Orinda, as chairman, Ron Howard, Walnut Creek, and Gilbert Earle, Orinda, as members, in addition to Gerry Gill, Marsh Creek, president of the Association."

"Committee meetings were held in addition to general meetings of the Association, the purpose of the latter meeting was to discuss and approve the suggestions made by the committee."

"The first and most important suggestion made by the committee was that there is a vital need for a survey of the salary structure in the various fire districts in order to arrive at a fair and realistic salary structure."

"The committee in its studies found that there exists a wide variation in salaries between districts, thus resulting in employee dissatisfaction and the resultant turn over in employees."

"ON THIS SUBJECT, the committee, speaking for the Fire Commissioners Association, wishes to recommend to the Board of Supervisors that a study of salaries paid employees of the fire districts within the county be made by a competent outside agency."

"It would be necessary to include all fire departments within the county for the purposes of such a study, the purpose of which would be to set up pay schedules, salary classifications etc.

"It is hoped that such a study would result in some kind of a uniform wage for firemen in all classes and thereby eliminate the present inequalities which now exist."

"The committee also reports to the Board of Supervisors the following topics which are currently under study:

1. The establishment of a County wide emergency telephone number for Fire Calls. The system employed to be similar to the Highway Patrol Setup. Details of this could be worked out with the Sheriff.

2. A factual study of the costs of fire protection in the County. This study to include the taxpayers costs in relation to services rendered, insurance costs, terrain etc.

3. The establishment of a "master plan" for the orderly development of the fire service to meet the ever increasing growth of the County. This plan would take in the location of future fire house sites to eliminate overlapping between districts and enable the local fire commissioners to properly plan for the needs of the future."

4. ON THE SUBJECT of an overall County Fire Department head, the Association feels that such a move would not be in keeping with the desires of the districts which they represent, but are open for further discussion on the matter."

5. The Association has also approved the immediate establishment of a uniform accounting and disbursement system, wherein each district would draw their own warrants."

6. Uniform job security for employees of the various fire districts, with clear cut procedures set up for the handling of personnel matters etc."

"In concluding this first report, the Committee wishes to point out to the Board of Supervisors that the Commissioners Association desires to do everything in its power to improve the fire service within the county and that it feels a keen responsibility to the assignment given the Association by the Board."

"It is respectfully requested that the Board of Supervisors take immediate steps to undertake the salary question, as this problem is considered the major one at this time."

"The Association will continue to make periodic reports of the progress of its studies as the Board directs."

Your Garden Too Warm? Gardening in Shade Can Be Rewarding

By THE GARDENER
Though you may consider the sun-loving flowers and shrubs the loveliest to look at in your garden you will find upon closer investigation that shade-loving plants have more grace and form than do their "sunny cousins."

These graceful shade plants can bring color to your garden too, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Gardening in the shade can be very rewarding when you work with a shade-lover like the Florists' Cyclamen and its miniature sister Cyclamen neapolitanum.

The Florists' Cyclamen (C. indicum) blooms from November to April, is tender to half hardy and features exceptionally large flowers in white or shades of pink and rose to red.

Cyclamen neapolitanum grows only four inches high and its blooms of pale to deep pink with crimson centers are surrounded by light green leaves marbled with silver and white.

It flowers from August to October. Give the Cyclamen bulbs filtered shade in rich, porous soil with plenty of leaf mold.

Large flowers in white, pink, blue, rose and red shades bloom on the Primula obconica, a hardy perennial member of the Primrose family. The P. obconica, a native of Southern China, is a perennial that is sometimes treated as an annual because it blooms itself to death.

It will bloom from early Spring to late Fall and often throughout the year. Give it a windfree, cool, shady spot.

Both the Hybrid Tuberous Begonia and the Multiflora Tuberous Begonia will perform beautifully in your shade garden. The Hybrids grow in many gorgeous colors and lovely blossom forms and the Multiflora is covered profusely with smaller flowers one and a half inches in diameter in yellow, copper and salmon and scarlet red.

Water these Begonias generously, feed after they're well established and place them so they have partial sun. Be sure they have good drainage also.

A standard growing mixture is mostly leaf mold, some peat and sand.

Cornwall Backs Profit Pride in Insurance Report

The California Agency Bulletin, official monthly publication of the California Association of Insurance Agents, last month featured a report by Neill Cornwall, 1929 Rahara Drive, Lafayette, on the activities of the association's 49th annual convention last October, which was headed by Cornwall.

The Lafayette insurance man issued the report at an association board of directors June meeting at the Huntington-Sheraton in Pasadena.

In the report, Cornwall stated that "Progress with Profit" was finally decided upon as best representing the message that the convention committee would like to impress upon the attending agents.

"We believe that there is too often a tendency to soft-pedal the fact that we and our companies are in business to make a profit," he continued, "as though such a thought, if it became planted in the minds of our assureds would constitute a blot on our industry."

He went on to state that insurance men should be proud that they are making a profit and are dealing with companies that are already showing profits. In the article he expressed the belief that people would not care to deal with insurance men whom they believed were not making profits.

Cornwall added that "Advertising has been a potent force for the American retailer in developing purchasers for his stock. Whether or not the sizeable annual expenditures for advertising by companies and agents is doing as good a job for the insurance industry is a matter of speculation."

"We are endeavoring to secure a competent speaker to discuss agency advertising," he said. "Let us not put up a sign 'this is a non-profit business—but we didn't plan it that way,'" he advised.

BIG PRE-INVENTORY SALE

starts FRIDAY, JULY 6 thru WEDNESDAY JULY 11

BIG MYSTERY: How do you get to Orchard Nursery?

No, we're not lost. Just "back the road apiece" from our former location. Only thing is, the new highway construction has temporarily hidden us from public view. (The pile of dirt gets higher every day.) This map will show you how to find us when the new access road is completed.

NOTE TO NEW HOME OWNERS in Rheim Valley, Jonas Hill Road, and Glorietta areas — we're just a hop, skip and jump away, and you don't have to get out on the highway.

IN THE MEANTIME, grab your compass, field glasses, range finder, geiger counter . . . and follow your nose.

GLUE 1 There may still be an entry from Mt. Diablo Blvd. If so, be our guest.

GLUE 2 There is a temporary dirt road near the end of Acalanes Valley Road at the intersection of Mt. Diablo Blvd. There is a cinch, so if available, why not have a go at it?

GLUE 3 The regular access road (about 100 yards back on Acalanes Valley Road as shown on the map) may be finished at this time. This is the road that will be used eventually. You can't miss us . . . we hope.

One way or another . . . please find us. It's money in your pocket when you do.

Sun Class Ads Work . . . And Figures Show Why!

No matter what the field, it is always results that count, and results are the proof that bring people flocking to a product when they want satisfaction.

When the classified advertisement section of a newspaper gets results for its users, the proof of those results appears directly in proportion to the number of users.

Satisfied users return to the classified pages of a paper which get results economically and swiftly for them, and other people join them to take advantage of the increased readership which will also provide results for them.

But look at the figures for "proof of the pudding." In the June 29 issue of The Sun, 432 separate and individual classified ads ran, all for one bargain price in The Sun Shopping News, the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun.

Compare the figures between the individual classified ads in The Sun and those placed in two other local weekly papers for the issue of June 29.

THE SUN Paper B Paper C

432 142 244

This is not just a happenstance occurrence of one week, either, as can be demonstrated by the figures showing the total number of classified advertisements which appeared in these same papers during 1955.

THE SUN Paper B Paper C

15,909 7,990 9,801

It is apparent that people turn to the paper which gives them satisfaction, and that paper is The Sun. When you are considering a classified ad, remember that the ad appears in five papers for one bargain price, and the ad will get results!

15 Year School Growth in Lafayette, Orinda Traced

School attendance increases of more than 1000 per cent were experienced between 1940 and 1955 in the Lafayette-Orinda area, giving "Suburbia" the record for growth in Contra Costa County.

A study by the office of County Superintendent B. O. Wilson disclosed today that the three fastest growing districts for the 15-year period are all located in the area.

ORINDA UNION Elementary District was the highest in the county, with a 1603 per cent growth. Lafayette Elementary was second at 1241 per cent.

Of the high school districts, Acalanes Union was first with a 406 per cent increase.

Other rapidly growing districts during the 15-year interval were: Sheldon, 968 per cent increase; San Pablo, 944 per cent; Mt. Diablo Unified Elementary, 924 per cent; Vine Hill, 802 per cent; Pinole-Hercules Union, 735 per cent; and, second among the high schools, Richmond Union High School District, 247 per cent.

During the first five-year period, San Pablo was the fastest growing district and Richmond Elementary, second. In the second five-year period Lafayette and Orinda Union led the parade.

Between 1950 and 1955 Sheldon and Vine Hill had the highest growth rate.

The county's total elementary growth rate descends from a high of 198 per cent during World War II to 49 per cent between 1945 and 1950 and then 20 per cent for 1950-55. The percentage for the 15-year interval was 430. High school growth was 214 per cent, and a similar growth pattern prevailed.

AMONG THE individual districts experiencing a reversal of the general trend was Mt. Diablo Unified, whose rate of growth was 46 per cent for the first five years and 88 and 111 respectively for the subsequent periods. Attendance increased 655 per cent in the 15 years.

Christian Science

Humanity's need for effective prayer will be emphasized at services Sunday in Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from Psalms (9:14): "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."

The importance of earnest prayer to God is brought out in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, which will include the following (4:3-9): "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds."

"To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done."
